Happily Wedded—On Saturday evening last, there was a pretty wedding transpired at the home of Mrs. Johanna Norberg of Alderbrook, when the destinies of Mr. Carl Edward Johansen and Miss A. Mikkelsen were united by Rev. G. E. Rydquist, pastor of the First Lutheran church, in the presence of a joyful group of kinsmen and friends. The home was beautifully decorated with ivy, potted plants and cut flowers, all eked out with special and effective illumination. The bridesmaids were the Misses Caroline C. Young, Selma E. Norberg and Hannah Asp; the groomsmen, Messrs. Axel Johansen, Alben Henriksen and Frank Johansen. A delicious supper followed the happy ceremony and the young people were overwhelmed with congratulations and gifts. The bride is a niece of the late Mrs. Ben Young, and of Mrs. Norberg. Reed's splendid boat, the Reliable. It will take about four or five months to complete the boat and it will be in readiness for next season's towing. Capt. ### HOT DRINKS

Hoepfer's
SANDWICHES

Sunday at the Wreck—The magnificent weather of Sunday, coupled with the efforts of the A. & C. people to make it convenient for the public to get to the wreck of the British bark Peter Iredale, on Clatsop sands, induced well on to a thousand visitors to make the trip, though some hundreds of them may have been from closely contiguous points. The tide was on the ebb most of the time the people were there, and those who desired could reach the ship's sides, but were not permitted to go on board. Captain Lawrence and some of his officers were on board or in camp on the sands and made things very interesting for those who sought information relative to the disaster, in so far as they felt it wise to talk of the matter. They were kind enough to cast a lot of trifles ashore for whosoever might be lucky enough to pick them up, such as belaying-pins, tin cups and pans, and such gear as was practically of no further use to the vessel and they were eagerly gathered up and carried away as souvenirs. The Iredale stands as straight as when she was afloat on an even keel in still water, and is a fine looking craft. Several people were down on Sunday with the special purpose of measuring her hull with a view to purchasing her for junk when the time comes, among them Martin Foard and John Fox of this city.

Will Determine Tonight—Secretary A. Hildebrand, of the Astoria Park Commission, has issued a call for a meeting of the commission at the city hall this evening, for the purpose of taking immediate steps for locating and erecting the beautiful fountain presented to the city by the Woman's club of Astoria, and which has cost in the neighborhood of $250. It was the original intention of the commission to place this fountain on the roadside at the easterly end of the park and just below the reservoir site, but it developed that the Water Commission intended to erect a fountain at that point for man and beast, and hence it becomes necessary to select another site for the gift of the ladies. It is thought that it may be placed on the upper and western end of the roadway, probably at the point where the park road now rounds back on itself and at its highest point at present.

Change of Grades—City Surveyor Tee yesterday filed in the office of the auditor, his recommendations for change of grades on three streets, as follows: Twelfth street, at south line of Harrison avenue, 137 feet above the base of grades; at north line of Irving avenue, 149 feet, and at south line, 151 feet; at north line of Jerome avenue 166 feet, and south side, 169 feet; at north side of Kensington avenue, 180 feet, and south side, 192 feet. Commercial from Third to McClure line; at west line of Third street, 80.3; at north line of Second street, 108.3; at north and south line, at west line of McClure's, 138.3 feet. Jerome Avenue; at north line of 11 street, 193 feet; at south line, 196 feet; at north line of 12th street, 166 feet; at south line, 169 feet; at north and south line of east line of McClure's, 200 feet at a point 200 feet west of the west line of McClure's, 210 feet at north line of 14th street, 205 feet at south line, 200 feet.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Charter Filed—C. C. Utzinger who has been circulating the petitions for amendments to the city charter, secured the required 200 names and filed the same yesterday afternoon. Auditor Anderson was busy last evening preparing the same which will be published in pamphlet form, for general distribution. A copy of the new charter will be mailed to every voter who registers, and copies can be obtained at the auditor's office as soon as printed. The new charter will be submitted to a vote of the people at the December election for ratification or rejection.

Cannot Escape It—Mayor Wise is in receipt of another numerously signed petition from the citizens of the West End, insisting on his permitting the use of his name for the coming election in the matter of the mayoralty and his response to the public expression of the same sort conferred upon him on Saturday last, is without doubt comprehended in the published statement appearing in these columns this morning.

Amusing and Realistic—The long and lively films now on exhibition at the Waldorf concert hall are among the best Kinetoscope work ever shown in this city, and include a remarkable presentation of Arabian magic and its alluring transitions; and elopement, with all its accessories of fun and danger; the tribulations of a bibulous individual and his erratic spouse, who goes with him on one of his peripatetic sojourns about the city with a grand finale in the way of his defeat and a thorough trouncing when he gets home.

An Alleged Crazy—Yesterday afternoon a complaint in lunacy was sworn out before Judge Trenchard as against one Theodore Alexander, of Uniontown, and the necessary papers were made out at once. Sheriff Pomeroy went out for Alexander and he was soon before the judge and under the professional scrutiny of Dr. J. A. Fulton. It was determined to hold him for another 24 hours, to see if his excitement would not abate and give a better idea of his normal condition.

Farmers' Institute—The people of Leabon, Linn county, have issued a circular in which a cordial invitation is extended to the people of Astoria to attend the Farmers' Institute to be held in that city on November 6 and 7. It is to be held under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural college and it is announced that an appropriate and interesting program has been prepared.

Fort Stevens Notes—Lieutenant Cooper, of Fort Stevens, was a visitor in the city yesterday afternoon and was busy greeting people who were glad to see him. He reports that Dr. M. A. Hayes, formerly of Fort Casey, has arrived at Stevens to relieve Dr. W. E. Brown, who is doing temporary duty there in the absence of Dr. Steadman, now on leave. Dr. Brown will go abroad on leave of absence, also.

Turn of the Wheel—Samuel Elmore of this city is the possessor of a big rancho on the Trask river at the head of Tillamook Bay and only last year, under the abnormal pressure of things down that way and the utter lack of all prospect for a revival, offered the place for $10,000. he has peremptorily refused $25,000 for the same property. This goes to show how things are looking up in that favored section, and what the assurance of a coming railway means to a community. The A. & C. extension will run right along and possibly across Mr. Elmore's place and this has something to do with the accelerated price now appertaining to it.

Pacific County Politics—The political campaign in Pacific county will close next Saturday night. The principal fight is between J. W. Kleeb, Republican, and H. S. McGowan, Democratic candidates for joint senator. The Skamokawa Eagle and Chinook Observer, both Republican, are supporting Mr. McGowan. Aside from this, it is probable that the entire Republican county ticket will be elected.

The Best of News—The best of news the ordinary man can get is that his salary has been materially increased, and this is the sort of information that was received yesterday by Assistant Postmaster Otto Heilborn of the Astoria office. Under the new rulings in this relation, he will get an even hundred tacked on to his present official income, an addition that no one will begrudge him who realizes how well he earns it.
